2023 REMARKABLE TECH SUMMIT SPONSORSHIP PROPOSAL

At the heart of our innovation efforts, Cerebral Palsy Alliance Research Foundation (CPARF) runs Remarkable US, the independently funded North American arm of Remarkable — a global disability tech accelerator committed to developing startups that support affordable, life-changing assistive technology that covers the whole human experience. Nothing about us without us — a core disability rights and accessibility principle — is at the center of the accelerator's mission.

CPARF and Remarkable know that innovation focused on people with disabilities drives positive change for everyone. Some of the most indispensable tech in our lives — email, the internet, audiobooks — was built to accommodate disabled people before it was embraced by the whole world. What was personal design became universal design.

Remarkable was developed to empower people with disabilities through technology and innovation, and to knock down the significant barriers people with disabilities can face in every facet of life, like accessible homes, transportation, education, meaningful employment, leisure activities, and cultivating relationships.

The Remarkable Tech Summit takes our work a step further by convening people with lived experience, creative expertise, business acumen, an interest in disability, and the investment power to drive change.

With everyone in the same room, incredible things will happen — and your company can play a crucial role in our success with a 2023 Remarkable Tech Summit Sponsorship.
